EXIT 7 OFFICIALS

FIVE NEW COUNTY OFFICERS GO IN FRIDAY.

CLERKS BEGIN MONDAY

Change School Superintendent, Prosecuting Attorney, Recorder of Deeds and County Judges Thursday.

With the passing of the year 1914 and the entrance of 1915 in Nodaway county this week will also come several changes in the county offices here, followed by two more next Monday morning. When Friday morning arrives these changes will ensue:

Albert H. Cooper of Gaynor City succeeds W. M. Oakerson as county school superintendent.

Dan R. Baker succeeds J. Arthur Wray as recorder of deeds.

William G. Sawyers succeeds George Pat Wright as prosecuting attorney.

W. M. Blackford succeeds John G. Thornhill as presiding judge of the county court.

Matthew F. Farnan succeeds Floyd Westfall as judge of the county court from the south district.

Two Change Next Week.

When Monday morning appears Fred J. Yeomans, deputy county clerk for the last eight years, will succeed George W. Demott as county clerk, and George Henry Westfall will succeed Eugene Rathbun as clerk of the circuit court.

That not all changes are made at the same time is due to provisions of the Missouri statutes, which declare when certain county officials shall assume offices to which they may be elected. It provides in these cases that all but the county clerk and circuit clerk, shall take the oath of office to which chosen on the first day of the new year. It further provides that the two county clerks shall take office the first Monday in January, which will be the 4th this year.

Appoint Assistants.

Nearly all new county officers have appointed assistants.

Mr. Cooper probably will have no assistance as county school superintendent. Mrs. John Porter now is deputy superintendent and may be re-appointed.

Mr. Baker has appointed Luke P. Colvin as deputy in the office of recorder of deeds' office, so is quite familiar with the duties of that office. Mr. Baker also will assist her husband in that office whenever necessary. Mr. Baker announced this morning. She will not be regularly employed, however.

Mr. Sawyers has not yet announced an assistant prosecuting attorney, but probably will do so on his return tomorrow from an extended visit in the east. This office now goes on a salary basis, the stipend being $2,500 annually. Heretofore it has been on a salary and fee basis combined.

Mr. Yeomans has delegated Calvin Burch of Clearmont as deputy county clerk and Mrs. Yeomans as extra deputy when necessary. Mr. Burch is familiar with such work, having been employed as bookkeeper and in banking. Mrs. Yeomans also has had much office experience and formerly was a bookkeeper.

Retiring Officials Into Other Work.

Mr. Westfall expects to retain Amos Sprecher as deputy circuit clerk. He has served with Mr. Rathbun in that capacity and is well acquainted with court work delegated to that office.

Those retiring have not made definite plans for the future in some cases. Mr. Rathbun, however, intends to retire to his farm. Mr. Wright, with his assistant prosecuting attorney, M. E.

Ford, will take up the law practice in partnership after this week.

Mr. Demott will probably retire to an 11-acre farm he owns north of the city. Miss Mary Harvey intends to visit awhile and may then resume some office work.

Mr. Thornhill, retiring judge of the county court, will retire from active work. His partner, Floyd Westfall, will continue his farm operations. Mr. Wray will probably assist his son, Walter Wray, in the operation of the Maryville laundry after this week. Miss Nellie Wray, deputy under her father, intends to take up collection work for the laundry part of the time.

Mr. Oakerson will become assistant state superintendent of schools after January 11. He leaves for Jefferson City next Tuesday, however.

Appoints County Engineer.

The only appointive county office is that of county highway engineer. He is appointed annually by the county court in the February meeting. John H. Clary now holds that position. He succeeded J. E. Reece, now county surveyor, in February, 1913, and was re-appointed last year.

SHOULD AID RURAL CARRIERS

Nodaway County Deliverer Suggests Resolutions for Good of Mail Service.

Editor Democrat-Forum: As the time for making (and breaking) good resolutions is near at hand and most of us are thinking of some good resolutions for the other fellow to make, allow us to suggest the following resolutions, which, if made and kept by every patron of every rural mail route, would not only expedite the delivery of the mails, but would add greatly to the comfort of the rural letter carrier.

First—That I will procure at once a supply of stamps and will stamp all my letters and post cards before putting them in the box, and thus relieve the carrier of the disagreeable task of licking stamps and making change for me during the cold weather.

Second—I will have my outgoing mail ready when the carrier arrives and not ask him to "wait a minute" out in the cold while I add a postscript to a letter or address an envelope which should have been ready at his coming.

Third—if obliged for any reason to leave money in the box for the carrier I will place it in the same receptacle which he can easily handle without removing his mittens, and not cause him to freeze his hands and lose his temper picking up loose coins from my box.

Fourth—if it should storm and the snow should drift around my mail box, I will, before the carrier arrives, open up a road to the box so he can drive up to it without danger of getting his team down or overturning his rig.

Fifth—if I desire to purchase a money order, I will fill out the application blank which has been furnished me by the carrier and thus save him doing this for me when he gets to the office.

Sixth—I will not grumble nor complain should the carrier be a few minutes late in arriving, as his delay may be caused by some of his patrons failing in keeping these resolutions.

Trusting that a great many of the patrons of the rural mail routes in this county will endorse and keep these reasonable resolutions, we are yours for a bigger and more satisfactory mail service during the year 1915.

FIRE LOSS $3,395 CONTEST IS CLOSE

MARYVILLE HAS 31 FLAME CALLS DURING YEAR.

ARREST 278 IN 1914

Police Records Show There Were 24 More City Court Cases Past Year Than 1913.

The Maryville fire department has had thirty-one calls to fires within the city limits so far during 1914, with a total loss from flames and water of $3,395, according to Burt Rowley, chief of the fire department, this morning. This shows that the residents of Maryville paid out the last year several thousand more dollars for fire protection than was suffered during the same time.

Next year, however, a loss much beyond the total insurance may result in the city, the insurance agents explain, so that it is an unwise policy to stop the fire insurance just because in one year the fire loss is small.

The records of the city police court for the year just closing show that there were 278 arrests during the last twelve months, with a total receipt of approximately $1,500 resulting from fines, and slightly more than that amount in court costs.

Compared to last year, there were twenty-four more cases of disorder, drunkenness or vagrancy in 1914 than in 1913, the total number of arrests last year being 254.

Between fifty and sixty of the members, however, live outside of the lodge jurisdiction, and therefore were unable to enter into the membership campaign.

IS a Strong Lodge.

The meeting tonight will also result in considerable degree work for new members.

Prior to the banquet next Tuesday night the newly elected officers of White Cloud Lodge will be installed. They are William C. Irwin, noble grand; Wesley Howland, vice grand; Amos Sprecher, secretary; John G. Greene, treasurer; E. E. Williams, trustee. About ten appointive officers also will be installed at the same time. They will be selected by the newly elected noble grand and the new vice grand.

The fire report of Chief Rowley shows the following fires and estimated fire losses by months:

NAVY HERO'S COUSIN HERE

Mrs. Alice R. Perrin is Related to Commander of Battleship North Carolina.

There is on woman, at least, in Maryville that is watching with almost breathless interest the activities of the United States navy in the Mediterranean sea and its trouble with Turkey recently. For her cousin is in the thick of it all and in fact is a prime mover. That woman is Mrs. Alice R. Perrin, No. 312 West Second street, proprietor of "Perrin Hall" and dean of women at the State Normal School.

The man in the case, is none other than Captain J. W. Oman, commander of the United States battleship North Carolina, which but two short days ago came into the publicity limelight, for having quelled a Turkish mob in Syria thereby saving several lives. Captain Oman's father and Mrs. Perrin's father were brothers. They lived in the same town in Pennsylvania along the Susquehanna river. There Mrs. Perrin then Miss Alice Oman, and young J. W. Oman, grew up together. They attended the same school and participated in the same youthful frolics.

Then Mrs. Perrin's parents moved to the central west a few years later. J. W. Oman, the hero in the story, still a young man, entered the United States naval academy at Annapolis, Md. He graduated, went to sea, stayed there and kept re-enlisting and going up in promotions. He went into the best part of the Spanish-American war, did several cruises over the globe, and later became commander of the North Carolina.

It is one of Uncle Samuel's best armored cruisers and carries a crew of 750 men, with Captain Oman as "boss." Mrs. Perrin is 50 years old. She is Captain Oman. Neither have seen each other since they were 9 years old, but they do occasionally write.

The last time the North Carolina got into the public eye happened as follows, according to the Associated Press:

A Reuter dispatch from Athens says it was the United States cruiser North Carolina that threatened to use its guns at Tripoli, Syria. The North Carolina, convoying the American steamer Virginia, had gone to Tripoli and the commander requested the Turkish authorities to permit the British and French consuls to depart with their nationals resident in Tripoli. This request was refused. Several of the French residents boarded the Virginia, but were attacked by a mob, who wounded the captain and first officer. The North Carolina then threatened to fire, whereupon the mob fled.

The Virginia, escorted by the North Carolina, then left for Dodecagath and the North Carolina later proceeded for Smyrna.

The United States cruiser North Carolina, according to a Washington dispatch of December 16, went from the Island of Scios, on the coast of Asia Minor, to Alexandria to take gold to Jaffa for the relief of the Jews in Jerusalem. Jaffa is about 180 miles south of Tripoli.

Owens Chapter Holds Annual Installation—E. E. Williams High Priest.

The installation of new officers was held last night in connection with the regular degree work by Owens chapter, No. 96, of the Royal Arch Masons.

The new officers are: E. E. Williams, high priest; Dr. F. C. Wallis, king; J. E. Reece, scribe; Charles McNeal, captain of host; C. C. Hellmers, principal squire; George B. Baker, treasurer; E. F. Hamlin, secretary.

Mayor U. S. Wright retires as high priest. The election of new officers in the Royal Arch Masons is by rotation. The local chapter was organized in 1882. It holds meetings twice each month.

Mac Vinsonhaler Succumbs at Hiawatha, Kan.—Once Lived Near Graham.

Mr. Vinsonhaler lived for a number of years on a farm near Graham. He was about 80 years old, and for the last twelve years had made his home with his daughter.

He was a brother of George Vinsonhaler, who lived on South Fillmore street for many years.

British Searching American Ships and Emperor's Ultimatum May Strain Relations.

Petrograd, Dec. 29.—The following official communication from the headquarters of the army of the Caucasus was issued last night:

"In the direction of Oli, Trans-Caucasia, our troops having crossed the Laursin river, arrested the progress of a considerable force of Turkish troops.

In the region of Sari Kamysch fighting is developing.

"On December 26 the region of Dutak our advance terminated the occupation of the line between Khamour and Agadane. The Turks withdrew, having suffered grave losses."

Washington, Dec. 29.—Grave fears are entertained because of the strained relation likely to result over the ultimatum the United States government has dispatched to the British government relative to the indiscriminate searching of American vessels on the high seas.

The ultimatum Germany also has sent to this government regarding the actions of some of the American consuls to Belgium and lack of harmony with German military authorities likewise has helped to make the fears for this country's neutrality greater.

STOCK MARKET IS STRONG

Cattle, Hogs and Sheep Bring Higher Prices—Quarantined States Buy Little.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Dec. 28.—The cattle market advanced 5¢ to 75¢ last week, except stockers and feeders which gained 15¢ to 50¢. Receipts here are 10,000 head, and killing grades are selling about steady, with a shade of weakness, stockers and feeders strong and active. No highly finished killing steers are here, the best bringing $8.75 today, but strictly prime steers might sell around $10.25, and best heavy cows bring $7.25. Quarantine prices have not been fully tested recently, some fair meal-fed steers weighing 1,026 pounds selling at $7 to day, and other lighter steers at $6.40 and $6.70.

Stockers and feeders meet a good demand, and are apt to get further advances in the next few weeks. Iowa bought some cattle here last week, practically the first in six weeks, but Illinois and other quarantined states have not bought any since the first of November. As the quarantines are raised the demand will increase.

Kansas has laid in a larger number of cattle this fall than in any recent year. While some of these cattle are ready to move to market whenever prices are attractive, there will not be any oversupply at any time this winter. Feeders are selling at $7.25 to $8., stockers $6.75 to $8., a few cattle on either side of these quotations.

Hogs made a small net gain last week, and are 10¢ to 15¢ higher today. Larger receipts at Chicago and St. Louis and light supplies here keep prices at Kansas City as high as at markets east, sometimes higher. Top here today is $7.40, Chicago same, St. Louis same, St. Joseph $7.37 1/2. Receipts here are only 4,000 today. Within a week or two Buffalo, Cleveland and other eastern markets will get fewer hogs, and order buyers here will want more hogs. May pork is 75¢ above a week ago, and fresh pork is making a good profit for killers, incentives for active buying at the stock yards.

Lambs have advanced half a dollar in the last week, including a gain of 15¢ to 25¢ today, and sheep are 25¢ higher than a week ago. Receipts are moderate, 4,200 here today, and will continue light. Pea-fed lambs sold at $8.70 and $8.75 today, lambs weighing 77 pounds, and others 86 pounds, bringing the top price. Ewes are quotable up to $6. Locally the situation is strong, and if any bear influence is felt it will have to come from the outside.

CONGRESS AT REST

LEGISLATIVE WORK STOPS DURING YULETIDE SEASON.

'IS CHILD'S HOLIDAY'

Story of Christmas and What It Represents is Told by Louisiana Journalist.

(By W. C. Van Cleave.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 24.—After two weeks of strenuous work congress adjourned yesterday for the holidays. Today the corridors of the old capitol are practically deserted and its silent walls echo the footsteps of the few who are left on guard. The outgoing trains have been burdened to their capacity with statesmen and near statesmen hurrying to their homes and little ones. The government departments have given a half day's holiday to their employees and the big stores, and little ones, too, are a mass of struggling, crowding humanity frantically endeavoring to spend more or less of their savings that others may be made happy in the knowledge that they are affectionately remembered.

Outside a heavy snow is falling to remind us of the purity and sacredness of the day we are about to celebrate and all nature is sheeted in white. Out on the plaza in front of the capitol men are at work erecting big evergreens for the community Christmas tree which the poor and the rich alike may view and enjoy. A choir of hundreds of voices will sing Christmas carols from the great steps at the east entrance to the capitol, and other appropriate ceremonies will be held.

Tonight the churches will hold watch meetings, the hotels and restaurants will be crowded with parties waiting to lend joy, and even revelry, as the day is ushered in. Tomorrow, according to an old custom, in almost every window in this city will hang a wreath of holly and evergreen, and mistletoe will abound in the homes of the young.

It is well that the day is observed, and better that it be observed, not only in appreciation of the present, but with hope for the future. Christmas is essentially the children's holiday, and the following lines from the pen of for his fellows. Men and women, even W. C. Chevis, a distinguished Louisiana journalist, are appropriate and worthy of preservation:

"The Angel-Heralded Babe.

"Twinkle softly, stars of light.

"Christmas eve is babies' night.

"Beside Christmas, is there in all the wide world a holiday consecrated to the memory of a babe? In America, in Europe, in Asia, holidays have been decreed commemorative of the achievements of colossal, sun-crowned men; but such holidays are local in their character, ephemeral, speaking comparatively, in point of duration. Monuments of brass, marble and granite are erected in honor of Washington, Napoleon, Caesar, but these monuments shall crumble into dust, the nations that constructed them shall become but dim memories of antiquity, and alien feet shall tread the massive ruins that shall slumber by the banks of the Potomac, the Seine, and the Tiber. Archaeologists, peering among broken columns and moldering frieze and cornices of stately temples and palaces, shall decipher the hieroglyphics carved by stalwart races that spent their brief day upon a mighty stage, became atrophied, and melted away amid the gathering shadows of the somber twilight."

"But the Heaven-sent Babe, over whose advent angel choristers discoursed celestial anthems and Magi journeyed from the ends of the earth under the leading of a lustrous star, to lay their kingly offerings beside His lowly manger, commands the homage of men and angels now and through the endless ages. While the throne of the Caesars was yet in its prime, the Christ child came to bless the home of a humble carpenter. With the purple blood of royalty in His veins, He was born in a manger, but kings journeyed over strange lands and through deserts wild to that lowly manger and bowed low before Him. He spent His brief life among the common people, doing acts of mercy and deeds of self-sacrificing heroism.

"No crown save that of thorns adorned His kingly brow. He waged no wars, erected no stately palaces, temples, or monuments, and the scepter of His power was love. And thus He lived and wrought, from childhood on to mature manhood, when His course was ended and Calvary became the throne of power from whence emanated the marvelous doctrine of victory over all things through love. No newborn babe was ever honored as He was honored, no patriot ever endured the ignominy He experienced in reward for service that was pure and unselfish.

"And the merry Christmas season reminds the thoughtful parent that there are kingly boys and girls in the homes of the land, before whose face the paths lead to mighty conquests through service if only the right imbue be given. Little recked Mary, when she sought the seclusion of the cheerless manger to provide a nesting place for Him who was to become the Prince of Peace, that swift-winged angels of light should disclose her obscure lodging place among the beasts of the stalls and that the stars of heaven should guide illustrious travelers in their weary search for Him born to command and strong to save." But so it was, and so it will ever be where high destiny awaits the command of ready and efficient service.

"When the three kings of the east prostrated themselves in adoration before the Infant Prince there is no record that any resident of Bethlehem understood the significance of the event or even manifested any special interest in it, but the birth in the manger conferred immortality upon their town, and Mary kept all these things and pondered them in her heart. The potentiality of the baby might furnish an excellent Christmas theme, and it is certain that more intelligent interest is being felt in the babies of the land today than was the case in the time of the Caesars. Considered from this angle, every mother is a divine Madonna and every babe an Infant Prince.

"Whether in the places of power or in the bovel of poverty, the birth of a child is a momentous event, for none knows whence are coming the boys and girls whose divinely ordered lives are to make of them living magnets, to the doors of whose cottages the world will make beaten paths across trackless deserts and build tunnels beneath granite mountains. And Christmas eve is babies' night, in commemoration of the Blessed Babe whose influences have swayed men and nations and the magic of whose name thrills the hearts of millions in every land and clime. The high minstrelsy of heaven inducted the Bethlehem Babe into His heaven-ordained work, and His homely philosophy and matchless precepts constitute a priceless part of the literature and art of every enlightened nation on this planet.

"It is needless to inquire, 'What think ye of Christ?' for men are divided in opinion as whether He be Messiah of mere man, but none challenge the all-persuasive influence of the service He rendered or of the supreme sacrifice He made. The lesson conveyed is, the potential life is the life in appreciation of the present, but with reference to the future, the man who leaves a mighty impress upon succeeding generations is he who has given himself to his fellows. Men and women, even W. C. Chevis, a distinguished Louisiana journalist, are appropriate and worthy of preservation:

"Whose gentle souls might be Tuned to highest minstrelsy."

JOHNSON TO REFUSE BONUS

Has Not Yet Received $6,000, but Won't Take It When It Comes.

Coffeyville, Kan., Dec. 29.—Walter Johnson, the baseball pitcher, has not received the $6,000 which dispatches said President Weeghman of the Chicago Federals was returning to him. The money was sent to the Chicago club by Johnson to pay back a bonus advanced for signing a contract with the Federals. Johnson said, even if the money came, he would not accept it until after he had the advice of Manager Griffith of the Washington club.

BRITAIN WARNED TO RESPECT U. S. RIGHTS

Washington, Dec. 29.—The United States government has made strong representations to Great Britain, insisting upon an early improvement in the treatment of American commerce by the British fleet. A long note has been forwarded to the British foreign secretary through Ambassador Page, covering the relations between the United States and Great Britain as affected by the British naval policy, which is considered "highly objectionable" by the American government.

The scouting trip of a German flyer over Kent causes the people to feel that there is a strong possibility that the Taubens may repeat over London the visit with bombs which they paid over Paris and Warsaw.

Reimbursement alone for cargoes unlawfully detained or seized, it states, does not remedy the evil as the chief difficulty is the moral effect of British practice on American exporters who are restrained by it from taking risks or hazards which in no case ought to surround legitimate trade between the United States and other neutral countries.

LITTLE CHANGES ON FRONT.

French and Teuton Reports Agree That Invaders Capture Section of Trenches—All Important Carpathian Passes in Hands of Russians.

WAR BULLETINS

A violent storm has temporarily stopped important military operations along most of the battle front in Belgium and France. In this territory the positions of the opposing forces remain virtually the same as they have been for weeks past.

In the eastern arena the official reports indicate a similar condition, so far as progress by either side is concerned. Petrograd reports, however, that between the Pilicia river and the upper Vistula the Germans are now on the defensive.

The British government through the naval and military authorities apparently fearing a raid over British towns by German airships, has issued a warning to the people to take to cover should the sound of firing be heard.

London, Dec. 29.—The battle lines in the east and the west have undergone only infinitesimal changes in the last day. The French and the German reports agree that the Germans have raised a section of the trenches near Hollebeck, south of Ypres.

The French assert that the Germans gave up trenches on the first line to the extent of about 800 or 900 yards in the Lens region, farther east, while unsuccessful demonstrations have been made from both sides at various points along the extended lines.

CRUEL NEW YEAR'S "SPORT."

Times Have Changed Since Dutch Tortured Geese In Old New York.

In old time New York, in the Dutch days, there was observed a cruel "sport" for New Year's day—a sport frowned on by Stuyvesant. It was called "riding for the goose." Blacksmith Joris set up in front of his shop two stout poles ten feet apart connected with a strong crossbar twenty feet from the ground. From this bar hung a living goose tied firmly by the legs, just over the head of a mounted rider. The sport consisted in riding at full speed between the poles and snatching at the head of the goose to bear away the head from the body or to tear the whole bird away. As the goose had been thoroughly greased and fluttered wildly at this exhibition of man's inhumanity when being amused this proved no easy task.

And see! Here is a Dutch tar—a pirate, perhaps, blustering with schnapps from Cruger's tavern, bawling out that he can catch aloft better than any handlubber. And with his clapping trowsers, crimson sash, cutlass, ear-rings and pigtail he mounts a shaggy Dutch pony and rides clattering at the poles and the fluttering goose. But the ill-broken cart horse promptly throws him to the frozen ground as he rises swaying in his stirrups to catch the slippery goose, and shouts of laughter greet him as he rises scowling and threatening.

And by this time and at this clamor Stuyvesant would come stamping along on his silver-banded wooden leg and try to force an unwilling battle watch to spoil the sport by arresting the noiseless and drunkenest men and "prevent more sins, debaucheries and calamities." Here is a part of one of his proclamations: "Whereas, experience has taught us that on New Year's day and May day from the firing of guns, the planting of maypoles and drunken drinkers there have resulted unnecessary waste of powder and much intoxication, with the bad practices and bad accidents; therefore, we expressly forbid any firing of guns and beating of drums," etc., to try to kill out the celebration of New Year's.

We can well understand the prudent governor's irritation and indecision, for three weeks of every midwinter at these holiday times were so given over to holiday observance that the courts did not sit, public offices were closed and no important business could be transacted.

The exchange of gifts was universal in New York on New Year's day for centuries, gifts of gloves, cake, fruit, "Kiss-me-kins" and New Year's visiting.

PRISONERS ARE WELL CARE FOR American Embassy Attache So Declares After Inspection.

Washington, Dec. 29—Chandler Anderson, who as a special attache of the American embassy in London made an investigation of military prison camps in practically all the European belligerent countries, declared there was no substantial difference in the treatment of prisoners of war and that probably in every case they were cared for as well as their captors could afford, considering their own military necessities. Mr. Anderson made personal investigation in England, Belgium, Germany and Austria, and also had knowledge from reliable sources as to conditions in France and Russia.

The Germans at the date of Mr. Anderson's departure from Europe had about 450,000 prisoners of war. About 200,000 were Russians, an equal number of French and about 17,000 British, the remainder being Belgians.

The prisoners were given the regular army ration and their principal lack was clothing, suitable for the season, and opportunities for bathing.

Most of them had been arrested in the summer and fall, wearing light clothing and were consequently suffering somewhat from the cold. The military prisoners particularly were found in worst circumstances because the German government would not allow them to accept and wear civilian clothes, lest it facilitate their escape.

In England the German and Austrian prisoners had been confined to the race courses, but more recently have been transferred to ocean liners lying idle at their docks.

Conditions in Austria, Mr. Anderson said, are very like those in Germany and the same is true of Russia.

Talk on Osteopathy
Number 3

A great discovery has just been announced. Dr. Edward Cyra of London, England, has been experimenting with Acute Croupous Pneumonia or lung fever as he says, in the New York Medical Journal.

Acute Croupous Pneumonia, or lung fever need not longer be feared as formerly.

By treating this disease with Mechano therapeutic or with the hands, it can be reduced to a comparatively simple disease.

However, one thing must be insisted upon, that is that the treatment be given by one who is thoroughly competent and has a trained hand or disastrous results will ensue.

The above treatment for pneumonia is exactly as Dr. Still has been teaching and practicing for 35 years, and has proved four times safer than any other known system of healing.

FRANK GRANTED APPEAL BY LAMAR

His Case Sent to Supreme Court of United States.

NEW ISSUES ARE INVOLVED.

Justice Asserts That High Tribunal Has Never Passed on Questions Raised in Trial of Atlanta—Georgia Will Ask Early Hearing.

Washington, Dec. 29.—Justice Lamar of the supreme court granted an appeal from the decision of the Georgia federal court, which refused to release Leo M. Frank on a habeas corpus proceeding. Frank is under sentence of death for the murder of Mary Phagan, an Atlanta factory girl.

Attorneys for the condemned man have been fighting for weeks for the appeal which was once previously denied them, although on another phase of the proceeding. The appeal Lamar granted permits them to bring their case up for hearing in Washington. Justice Lamar, in a statement explaining why he had granted the appeal, said the application for the appeal presented an entirely different situation from the application for a writ of error, which he had declined to grant some time ago.

The case will be heard by the full court in the ordinary course of business in about a year and a half, unless the state of Georgia should ask to have it advanced. Meanwhile Frank's execution is stayed.

Justice Lamar concluded his statement by saying: "The supreme court of the United States has never determined," he said, "whether on a trial for murder in a state court, the due process clause of the federal constitution guarantees the defendant a right to be present when the verdict is rendered."

Georgia Will Ask Early Hearing.

Atlanta, Dec. 29.—Solicitor Dorsey, who conducted the prosecution of Leo M. Frank, said he hoped to have the case heard in the supreme court within sixty days. Frank was sentenced to be hanged Jan. 22 next.

The corporal ordered the men to come ashore. Instead, they headed their boat for the American shore and were beating a hasty retreat when, at the order of Delaney, the soldiers fired upon them. Walter Smith was shot through the head and killed and Charles Dorsch was seriously wounded in the shoulder. Both resided in Erie, Ont., opposite this city. The men were hunting ducks out of season in the Niagara river and in Canadian waters.

Police Officer Delaney of Fort Erie ordered the men to stop shooting. They declined and Delaney called upon a corporal and two privates of the Canadian militia for assistance.
